

Descriptive Summary

I am an independent energy assessor who has a background in customer facing roles in the banking industry and latterly in property maintenance.

Based on current European legislation, the UK has created the requirement for energy assessments to be conducted on all the UK building stock. Domestic property requires energy performance certification to be produced, and on this basis I offer to conduct and produce Energy Performance Certificates (EPCs).

I am now able to provide Inventories for landlords which include Check In, Check Out and Interim Inspections.
